TM home investor feeder fund

A sub fund of the TM Hearthstone UK Residential Feeder Fund

This Fund is managed by Thesis Unit Trust Management Limited ISIN (Accumulation): GB00B95V2K41

Objectives and Investment Policy

TM home investor fund, currently the sole sub-fund of TM Hearthstone ICVC (a NURS), established in England.

It is intended that the TM home investor fund be a PAIF at all times, and, as such, its investment objective is to carry on Property Investment Business and to manage cash raised from investors for investment in the Property Investment Business as further described below. HM Revenue & Customs has provided confirmation to the ACD that the TM home investor fund meets the requirements to qualify as a PAIF under Regulation 690 of the Authorised Investment Funds (Tax) Regulations 2006 (as amended).

The objective of the TM home investor fund is to establish a residential property fund which provides investors with exposure to the United Kingdom housing market. Returns will derive principally from capital performance, with lettings of fund properties intended to cover costs and provide some additional return. As it is intended that the TM home investor fund follows the performance of the underlying housing market it will be ungeared apart from occasional borrowings used to support liquidity.

The key investment objective is to maintain a let property portfolio which is diversified according to the geographic distribution of housing stock in England, Scotland and Wales. As far as suitable opportunities allow, the TM home investor fund will allocate investments to each region on the basis of that region's market size compared to the United Kingdom as a whole (excluding Northern Ireland). Attention will also be given to maintaining a balance between property types which appropriately reflects the wider market.

There is no explicit income target for the TM home investor fund but the properties will be selected and managed in such a way as to provide income appropriate to their location while minimising the loss in rental yields due to management and maintenance costs.

The Trust uses the e.surv House Price Index (previously known as LSL Acadata) for performance comparison purposes only. The benchmark is not a target benchmark and the Trust is not constrained by it. This index has been chosen as a comparator benchmark as it is based upon actual sales completed and is mix-adjusted. There is a detailed comparison of the various indices on the e.surv House Price Index (previously known as LSL Acadata) website but, put simply, it is the result of taking the average of the price at which every residential transaction in England & Wales took place, smoothed over rolling 3 month periods, mix-adjusted to eliminate the effect of monthly changes in the types of properties sold, and seasonally adjusted to account for times in the year when house buying activity traditionally experiences peaks or troughs.

The base currency of the Fund is pounds sterling.

Income arising from the Fund is retained in the case of accumulation units. Investors can redeem units daily at 10.30pm.

Risk and Reward Profile

The sole investment of the Fund are shares in the TM home investor fund, a sub-fund of TM Hearthstone ICVC. If the value of the Fund's investment in the TM home investor fund declines, or is otherwise adversely affected, this will have an adverse affect on the value of the Fund.

The TM home investor fund has a significant exposure to immovables. As such, the authorised fund manager is not permitted to disclose a synthetic risk and reward indicator for the TM home investor fund. The authorised fund manager has identified the following material risks which are relevant to the TM home investor fund:

- Liquidity risk - investments in immovable property are relatively illiquid and more difficult to realise than most equities or bonds. If an asset cannot be liquidated in a timely manner then it may be harder to attain a reasonable price.
- Valuation risk - immovable property and immovable property-related assets are inherently difficult to value due to the individual nature of each property. As a result, valuations are subject to uncertainty and are a matter of an independent valuer's opinion. There is no assurance that the estimates resulting from the valuation process will reflect the actual sales price even where a sale occurs shortly after the valuation date.
- The investments of the TM home investor fund are subject to normal market movements and other risks involved with investing in property and securities. There can be no assurance that any capital growth will occur. The value of your investment may fall as well as rise.
- If significant numbers of investors want to get their money back at the same time the TM home investor fund may be forced to sell property. This could result in a lower price being obtained than the most recent valuation.
- The performance of a fund invested substantially in property can be negatively affected by a downturn in the property market in terms of both prices and rental income.
- The TM home investor fund invests mainly in one type of asset. It is therefore more vulnerable to the market sentiment for that particular type of asset.
- The investment returns of the Fund and the TM home investor fund may differ.
- The Fund may hold assets that are not always readily saleable without suffering a discount to fair value. The Fund may have to lower the selling price, sell other investments or forego another, more appealing investment opportunity.
- Investment in other funds may mean that the objectives and risk profiles of those underlying funds may not be fully in line with those of the Fund.
- Significant exposure to a particular industrial sector or geographical region reduces the diversification and is at risk of a localised event impacting the Fund.
- The Fund has a concentrated portfolio (holds a limited number of investments) and if one or more of these investments declines or is otherwise affected, it may have a pronounced effect on the Fund's value.
- The price of units/shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will actually be achieved.

All the risks currently identified as being applicable to the Fund are set out in the "Risk Factors" section of the Fund's Prospectus. Investors should also consider the "Risk Factors" section of the TM home investor fund.
